CLOCKWISE FROM FAR LEFT: Celebrating with Hairy Rhoda and Sean Avery at Barn & Vine in honor of their Hamptons magazine cover; all smiles with fellow Literacy Partners board member Alina Cho and friends Andrew Salfir and Daniel Benedict at the Literacy Partners Summer Soiree at Wolfier Estate Vineyard; cover star Drew Barrymore and I toasting with a glass of her namesake Barrymore wine.

LET THE SUMMER FESTIVITIES BEGIN! Every Fourth of July weekend, for as long as I can remember, my family has attended the Southampton Fresh Air Home's fireworks. The carnival at the start of the event engages the children, and then the Grucci fireworks, set off from a barge, mesmerize them and everybody else.

This patriotic weekend, we celebrate the Declaration of Independence and the birth of the United States of America as an independent nation. I feel blessed to be part of a community that honors this momentous occasion in such a powerful way. For more on this year's Southampton Fresh Air Home event, see "Spirit of Generosity."

The all-American actress Drew Barrymore, the acting idol of my youth, graces the cover of our July Fourth issue. Drew has a spirit that I adore. She has transitioned from actress to entrepreneur with a burgeoning collection of products, including Barrymore Wine and a beauty line, Flower, which is expanding into a summer essential: sunglasses.

Having just signed a $10 million deal with Yahoo (according to published reports), Katie Couric, the web portal's global news anchor, takes pause at her East Hampton home to discuss with us how she celebrates her family and the joys—including gardening and cooking—of the summer season.

We fill this 448-page issue with what and who you need to know right now. The marina of Sag Harbor is home to the freshly renovated Baron's Cove—the ideal spot to watch the sunset while sipping a cocktail. On that note, we lend other ideas on dining alfresco, and we take a visit to Harbor Bistro in East Hampton, which is part of our comprehensive restaurant guide in the back of the issue.

On the fashion front, cool girl and pro surfer Quincy Davis shows us how to mix high fashion with swimsuits; Tamara Mellon opens in Southampton; Marissa Webb's first collection for Banana Republic is inspired by the Hamptons; and Jenny Cabido gives us a sneak peek inside her shop, RM 09, at Haven Montauk.

Be well, dress well, and happy Fourth of July!
